

Municipal Health Office

RHU – Rural Health Unit

The rural health unit is the municipal arm of the government for its health impact programs in the community. It reaches out to the basic family structure to deliver the services and knowledge on the prevention, cure and maintenance concerning such programs. The RHU servers as the channel of health activities of the government to the individual members of the society.

Also, it is the road link in gathering information and ideas that are vital in outlining municipal development plans and programs. With the assistance of some volunteers and non-government organizations, it utilizes all effort to be technically responsive to the needs of the community and to attain the main objective of the local health department .

Objecives

- R – responsive to the needs of the community
- H – health oriented in doing daily tasks
- U – utilizes all effort to deal with the patients individual cases
- N – non-partisan, non-political, and non-sectarian in performing duties
